THE DEAN

December 5, 1917.

Dear Sir:

At the Twenty-fifth Anniversary Exercises held at the Drexel Institute on Saturday morning, October 19, President Aley of the University of Maine read a set resolutions which had been adopted by the students there after the beginning of the war. President Aley kindly loaned me his copy of the resolutions in order that I might have some copies made, and during the luncheon I distributed them to some of our guests. I am sending you herewith a set of these resolutions, thinking that I may have overlooked giving you a copy and that you may like to have one.

Yours very truly,

Arthur J. Rowland
